

Player Code Policy

In order to make the pro-am series the most equitable and fair experience possible for all players, the following Player Code Policy will be in effect for the upcoming season:

There are three player codes for Amateurs: A, B and C players.

Each amateur will begin the season coded as an A, B or C player based on their:

A) Handicap

- A player - 0-7.9 handicap
- B player - 8-14.9 handicap
- C player - 15+ handicap

B) Most recent player code from prior season if "A" is not applicable

C) Scoring average if "A" and "B" are not applicable

- A player - 77.9 and below
- B player - 78 - 85.9
- C player - 86 and above

Note: Players do not have to have an official USGA GHIN handicap to participate.

Once a player has competed in at least one pro-am for the season, their player code is determined by a rolling average of their most recent 10 pro-am scores only. The chart below outlines how the average is calculated based on a player's last 10 pro-am scores:

Rounds Played	Low Scores Averaged
1	1
2	1
3	1
4	2
5	2
6	3
7	3
8	4
9	4
10	5

Player codes will be updated weekly and will be determined by each players' rolling pro-am scoring average. Player codes will be determined by the following averages:

A player - 77.9 and below

B player - 78 - 85.9

C player - 86 and above

Additional weekly player code guidelines:

If a B or C player shoots under par, they will automatically be bumped to an A player for that week.

If a C player shoots under 75 (but above par), they will automatically be bumped to a B player for that week.

Special note on withdrawals:

Players are not permitted to post a score for a pro-am if they do not finish all 18 holes of their round for any reason. In situations where a player doesn't complete all 18 holes and doesn't receive a refund, their score will be tabulated as a No Card and they will still receive participation points for that event. If a player receives a refund, they are removed from the tournament and do not receive participation points.
